

Some 5,500 county employees striking for new pay pact

Alameda County Bureau
OAKLAND — County hospital, health care, welfare and food stamp offices were shut down this morning in the first county employees' strike since a wildcat walkout of 1968.

Some 5,500 members of three social service locals rallied late last night in their final push to a confrontation with the county board of supervisors. Observers say the strike will last from three to four weeks.

Meanwhile, nearly 400 county crafts workers were voting on the board's offer of a 2 per cent pay raise for this year. The results of that vote were not known as of press time last night.

In a prepared statement released at a morning press conference yesterday, County Administrator Loren Enoch said that after four executive sessions last weekend the county has met "an impasse with the SEIU" and that it is implementing a "strike readiness program (to) maintain and provide county services."

Enoch said he does "not foresee any major disruptions in public service," and emphasized that Alameda County's troubles will be different from the San Francisco strike of this spring.

Alameda county does not operate a transit system or garbage collection service, he said, or other more "visible" trappings that will be noticed by the general public.

The greatest impact will be on "the poor and those dependent on public services provided by the county," he said.

Union representatives warned the county of a strike more than three weeks ago, and the county began preparations.

Highland and Fairmont hospitals have been stock piling supplies and transferring patients.

Twenty "acute care" patients — chiefly cancer and cardiac victims — were moved from Highland to six private hospitals yesterday and another 16 patients may be moved today.

A spokeswoman for the county library system said she would not know until this morning how many employees would honor the picket lines. "We assume we'll be closed until we see how many of the staff come to work," she said.

Welfare offices in Fremont — which serve the valley — and Berkeley will be closed, but management personnel will accept telephone inquiries, Enoch said.

The county's Valley Mental Health Clinic in Pleasanton may or may not be closed, a spokesman said, but definitely "will be effected."

Food stamp purchases will continue at normal outlets, while welfare checks "should continue uninterrupted," Enoch said.

Deputy sheriffs, who last week signed a contract for a 7 per cent increase with a "no strike, no lockout" clause, will be on duty "to maintain public access to county facilities," according to Enoch.

The board also voted to hire 13 private security guards to bolster protection for county facilities. They will cost about $1,000 per day, Enoch told the board.

Management personnel in administrative offices have been authorized to work overtime to fill in where needed.

County Registrar of Voters Jim Riggs said next Tuesday's election and balloting would go on as scheduled. His office is staffed with striking union members, but he said electioneering help and management personnel would fill in the gaps.

Presiding Superior Court Judge Robert K. Barber said it is the court's "intent and resolve to keep all courts open and operating and to take whatever legal steps may be necessary in this regard."

He ordered all county employees to report for work this morning "if you intend to maintain employment in your present capacity."

The unions are demanding a 7.6 per cent pay and fringe benefit package they say is equal to one given management last month.

The county has countered with a 3.7 per cent offer.

Already a bad week for candidate Miller

Signs yanked from streets by vandals

LIVERMORE — A "systematic ripoff" and destruction of nearly 40 Don Miller residential campaign signs took place over the Memorial Day weekend.

Miller, a candidate for election to the Zone 7 Board of Directors, was vexed by the destruction which he termed "incredibly petty vandalism."

Miller said a systematic ripoff of 20 Miller signs took place in the Madison and Xavier Way area of Livermore on Friday night. His campaign signs were removed from a number of homes in that area. Those that did not come out of the ground easily were broken off at the stake.

The signs then were destroyed and dumped in a heap on Guilford Avenue. Residential signs in the same area supporting zone candidate Gib Marguth were left standing.

Then early Sunday morning, between 15 and 20 other signs were removed from the Wagoner Farms and Buena Vista areas.

The signs were pulled out, smashed and dumped behind Arroyo Seco School on Irene Way.

Irene Way resident Gordon Smith, out walking his dog at 1:15 a.m. Sunday, was first on the scene at the school.

Smith's attention was attracted by noises behind the trailer on school property. "A car was parked in the lot. I heard a lot of thumping and crashing, and walked toward it," Smith said. "As I approached some people jumped into the car on the passenger side and took off without turning the car lights on."

Smith walked around the trailer and saw "a whole bevy of Don Miller lawn signs — with some Archer Futch signs thrown in — smashed into pieces."

Smith said he could not tell if the people were young men or adults. He said the car they were driving appeared to be a gray Mustang.

"It really makes me mad," Smith said. "You talk about voter apathy, cry out for people to become involved. Here someone takes a stand and this destruction happens."

Miller said it was pretty clear that the "systematic ripoffs" have been directed toward one or two candidates. "Our signs have been the target of this incredibly petty vandalism, and I think it's a rotten deal," Miller said. "It offends my sense of fair play."

No one knows who is responsible for the destruction, or whether the two incidents are related, but Miller said he doubted it was the work of teenagers.

The Livermore Police Department has been alerted to the problem, Miller said. So far the police report no citizen complaints have been received.

Little league snack bar hit

Youthful burglars broke into the snack shack at the Dublin Valley Little League fields in San Ramon Monday, causing an estimated $200 damage.

Apparently looking for money, the thieves turned to vandalism when they discovered no cash on hand. A soft drink machine was ruined and large amounts of candy were stolen along with most of the keys belonging to the league.

He wants cooperation, but all Miller got last weekend was a bunch of broken signs.

'At least two lanes,' say leaders

PLEASANTON — If the city council is thinking about only a pedestrian overcrossing for Las Positas for the next few years, it should raise its sights a little higher, two of the leaders in the Big Push for the Overpass told The Times.

Jim Jordan of Stoneridge and Don Savery of Val Vista said that it's certainly important to prevent potential pedestrian accidents with Foothill High School students running across the Interstate 680 at almost the exact spot where the Las Positas overpass would be.

"But don't forget the other safety problem, too," said Jordan. "It takes almost 10 minutes for a Highland Oaks fire engine to make a backup call to Val Vista. If even a two-lane overpass were in, that time would be cut to a minute and fifteen seconds."

The two-lane overpass is one of a series of four things that could be done with the dangerous area. In order of rising costs, they are a pedestrian overpass, $450,000; a pedestrian overpass, $450,000; a pedestrian overpass which later could be tied directly to a two or four lane vehicle overpass, $700,000 or more; a two-lane vehicle overpass plus pedestrian and bike lane, $1.5 million; and a four lane overpass with the works, $2.5 million. Some of the figures are old estimates and don't reflect recent inflation.

The city council has been talking about digging up $450,000 out of its proposed 1976-77 budget to build the cheaper pedestrian overpass. It could get the money out of abandoning two proposed stoplights for Main Street ($90,000), some $109,000 in federal road funds, and other monies resulting from manipulating various funds.

But Savery and Jordan feel that the pedestrian overpass just might not be enough. What's worse, said Jordan, is that construction of the pedestrian overpass by the city could cut the priority for a vehicle overpass even lower in the state's eyes.

Savery and Jordan are still at odds with City Manager Bill Edgar over whether the city is going about its Las Positas lobbying efforts in the right way.

They and others in the CARD Committee want the city to repudiate its agreement with Stoneridge Developers that says Stoneridge will build the Stoneridge Drive overpass and be reimbursed by the city out of sales tax revenues from the Stoneridge Regional Center.

The developer was very insistent that the Stoneridge overcrossing go in if the city expected to get the shopping center, although Cal Trans didn't like the idea of putting the so close to Interstate 580 - I-680 interchange. From an engineering standpoint, the city managed to show it could be designed compatibly with the I-580, I-680 interchange.

The CARD Committee feels that the Stoneridge overcrossing is sinking the priority for the Las Positas overcrossing.

City Manager Bill Edgar said that it may drop it down the list a little, but since Cal Trans has no funds to build either one, it doesn't make any difference. The city would be foolish to neglect the Stoneridge overcrossing, which also is needed to serve the industrial land east of 680 and west of Hopyard Road.

Some Val Vista and Stoneridge residents also object to the Stoneridge overcrossing because they feel it will encourage truck traffic from the future regional center over to Hopyard Road through their neighborhoods. They say the proper mitigation measures against noise have not been taken.

The two points — noise and the alleged sinking of the Las Positas priority — will figure heavily in a public hearing next Monday over the Stoneridge overcrossing. The hearing will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Val Vista Park Recreation Center.

Savery has written to Congressman Pete Stark to see if federal highway funds can be located to solve the dilemma. So far, he hasn't had a reply from Stark's office, except that they are looking into it.

Zone 7 foes attack him in luncheon addresses

PLEASANTON — The spectre of Don Miller on the Zone 7 Board of Directors haunted zone candidates Ed Kinney, Gib Marguth, Tom Schweser and Ken Hart at the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce's luncheon yesterday.

The four candidates spoke in part two of the chamber's forum on Zone 7 issues. Candidates Archer Futch, David Harris, Don Miller and Paul Tull spoke last week.

But though Don Miller was not present yesterday, his presence haunted the proceedings. With only one week to go until the election on June 8, candidates Kinney, Marguth and Schweser took turns telling the audience why Miller should not be elected to one of the three seats up for grabs next Tuesday.

Former Pleasanton Mayor Ed Kinney said he'd looked forward to political retirement after stepping down from the Pleasanton City Council last March, but was drawn back into the fray by the "possibility that we would lose a very valuable agency if there were not a broader range of candidates" running for the Zone 7 board.

Kinney said he was opposed to the "lemming-type leadership I've seen develop in Livermore." Lemmings are Scandinavian rodents noted for following their leaders on suicidal migrations.

Kinney said he offers an alternative to the "lemming type leadership" of two candidates from Livermore, presumably referring to Archer Futch and Don Miller.

But later in a question and answer period, Kinney did not mince words. "Don Miller exhibits symptoms of paranoia," Kinney said. "He will not see the other person's point of view and always looks for pitfalls."

Kinney said if Miller joined Robert Pearson on the zone board, "meetings would be interminable and solutions negligible."

"Pearson we have to live with, Miller we don't," Kinney said.

Former Livermore Mayor Gib Marguth said Don Miller was "the one candidate I'd prefer not to serve with."

Marguth said Miller "insults his fellow councilmen and colleagues and so alienates people that he's not effective. He has tied up this valley like no one else could."

Marguth said he seeks on a seat on the zone board because "it's important that Zone 7 continue its evolutionary change into a more effective and meaningful valley-wide role" that will include sewage treatment.

Tom Schweser of Dublin admitted that Miller was "difficult to work with," but Schweser confessed that he, too, could be stubborn at times.

Schweser said he is running for the board because "Zone 7 is doing a fine job and should continue to do so."

Schweser warned that "there are candidates who would subvert that fine job."

He said the valley needs business, industry and people. "It's especially important that people don't go on the board with pre-conceived ideas. (A director must) leave all options open and make a decision when the time comes based on all the facts."

Ken Hart told the audience that the zone board needs someone with "common sense and practical experience."

Hart declined to jump on the anti-Miller bandwagon. "The Millers of this world have just as much right to their opinions as the Kinneys and Marguths. We've got to work together on issues facing the valley."

'Hospital should slip down map'

PLEASANTON — Frank Brandes thinks that the physicians' hospital San Ramon and Danville doctors want instead of a Valley Memorial Hospital in Pleasanton could be just the ticket for this city.

Brandes, a city council member, emphasized to the Times that he is speaking just as a citizen, not in his official capacity.

He also emphasized that the west valley hospital advocated by the San Ramon and Danville physicians ought to go to Pleasanton, not San Ramon or Danville.

Many Pleasanton physicians support that notion and it's about time someone speaks out for them, said Brandes, who spoke out for them at a meeting of the proposed hospital's backers recently.

Brandes has nothing against Valley Memorial Hospital locating in Pleasanton — he's all for that, too. But it appears to him that it will be a long time before VMH gets around to building its Pleasanton facility. The doctors appear to be able to move quicker with theirs, he said, and if they build it, Pleasanton is the best location along the I-680 corridor for it. It's not too close to Walnut Creek, the way Danville would be, and it would serve Dublin, Pleasanton and Sunol beautifully.

"When I heard they wanted to build a hospital in Danville and San Ramon, I realized it could mean we never would get a hospital in Pleasanton," Brandes told The Times. "My intention was to let them know that at least some people in Pleasanton are interested in having a hospital here."

"I don't like the location Valley Memorial chose in Pleasanton, but I have no objection to them building one here. The location is poor because traffic congestion will be severe on Las Positas Boulevard. (The VMH site is at Las Positas and Santa Rita Road.)"

Woman assaulted on Arroyo Mocho school grounds

LIVERMORE — A 19-year-old Livermore woman was assaulted by a man in his twenties as she walked between buildings at Arroyo Mocho School Monday afternoon.

The woman, a student at Chabot's Valley Campus, told police she was walking through Sunset Park with her two dogs and cut through Arroyo Mocho School on her way home. Suddenly a man behind her yelled, "Wait a minute," and as she turned around, the man put a choke hold around her neck. She screamed and broke away from the attacker as he began disrobing.

Police are looking for a man about 25 years old, 5 feet 10, clean shaven, with dark brown shoulder length wavy hair. He was wearing faded blue jeans, a burgandy T-shirt and white tennis shoes.

Detective Jim Serna said there have been several instances of exhibitionism in the same area within the past two weeks, many involving young children. Serna asks that any information on the suspect be transmitted to him at 443-0111. Information can be anonymous and is completely confidential.

$1,100 worth of beer and coffee taken from store

PLEASANTON — Burglars cut a lock to a walk-in storage container and stole more than $1,100 in beer and coffee from Pleasanton Foods on Main Street over the weekend.

Owner Richard Sood told police that the container, located on the east side of the store, was broken into either Sunday or early Monday. Missing items include 20 cases of Folger's coffee, five cases of MJB, 20 cases of Coors beer and 15 cases of Olympia.

Sood said other items may be missing, but an exact determination would be impossible. Police have no suspects in the theft.

Jewelry taken from Flagstone Drive home

PLEASANTON — Burglars broke out a bathroom window at the rear of a Flagstone Drive home early Saturday and took $1,425 in jewelry, police reported yesterday.

Dwane Francis Thibault told police that his daughter returned home Saturday morning and discovered the theft. Police could find no footprints outside the window and were unable to lift prints from inside the home.

Missing items include a silver band with diamond valued at $800, a silver wedding band, three rings with turquoise stone, a turquoise stone necklace, and a Pullstar watch.

Neighbors reported hearing the family's stereo playing at about 4:30 a.m. that day, but saw no suspicious activity. Thibault said his stereo had been tampered with but not taken.

Police have no suspects in the case.

Possible liquor law violation at Gardella's

LIVERMORE — Police will file a report with the state Alcoholic Beverage Control department alleging Gardella's liquor store at 202 South L St. sold beer to minors.

Officer Louis Andrade spotted two young men walk out of Gardella's about 9 p.m. Saturday with a case of beer. Andrade detained them and asked for identification. Both men were 18, police reported.

Andrade and the two men returned to Gardella's, where both identified Michael Edward Moran, a clerk at the store, as the man who sold them the beer.

According to police, Moran allegedly readily admitted the sale, saying the two had produced ID's in the past showing ages of 26 to 28 years old. Moran said he wasn't shown any ID before the last sale.

Gardella's has an off-sale general liquor license at present, police report. Both the district attorney and the ABC would receive reports on the incident, police indicated.

Friends may call at the mortuary from 6-9 p.m. Wednesday.

Two swim teams involved Trustees nix pay cut

LIVERMORE — An attempt by Superintendent of Schools Leo Croce to save $50,000 by cutting back summer school teachers' pay was defeated last night by a 4 to 1 vote of the board.

Croce's idea was to pay teachers $8.30 an hour for their part time summer work rather than pro-rating their salary based on their annual income.

The $8.30 rate is at the bottom of the school district's pay scale.

On hand to voice their opposition were summer school lead teachers Chuck Hazen, Virgil Dahl and Jim Kashiwamura and science teacher Bob Hansen.

Michell parents still not happy

LIVERMORE — Joe Michell School parents aren't satisfied with school district explanations of why they haven't had much to say about the school's future.

Acting as spokesman for parents who back Michell's original program, and not the conservative "fundamental" program being launched for next year, Harold Barnett of 677 Caliente Drive has fired off his second protest letter to the school board. The first was delivered at a school board meeting two weeks ago.

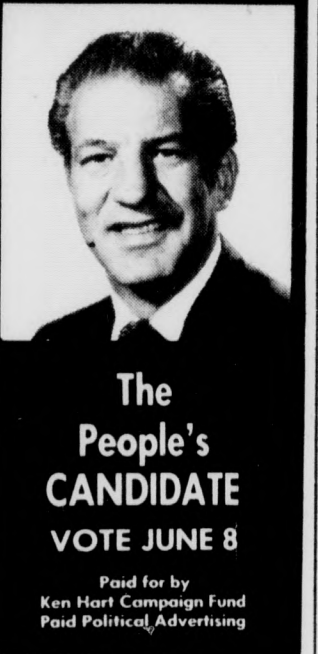

This letter asks whether school board policy has been violated in the way the two programs have been handled. Barnett reports that the advisory committee for the new, minority program, the fundamental school, met March 25 while the "Basic Plus" committee were not called together until May 17, nearly the end of the school year.

Later for Mathias

PLEASANTON — Oakland poet John Mathias's reading scheduled for tomorrow (Thursday) at Century House has been postponed until September.

Mathias was the founder of Bay Area Poets Coalition and Poetry Newsletter, a newsletter about poetry readings and other news of the Bay Area poetry scene. He graduated from Amador High School and moved to Oakland where he has a small press and ceramics shop.

Tokyo Rose bill moving

Assemblyman Floyd Mori's bill to redeem the name of "Tokyo Rose," Iva D'Aquino, will be heard in the Assembly's criminal procedures committee today.

Mori's bill would direct President Ford to grant full pardon to her. She spent many years in prison when she returned to the United States from Japan, but recent evidence from Americans close to her trial at the time has shown facts contrary to the lack of patriotism which supposedly brought the conviction.

Mori said he has received much strong support for his bill among legislators.

D'Aquino was a Los Angeles Japanese-American resident when World War II broke out. She had been summoned to Japan to care for a sick relative and had no money to pay for a trip back to the USA.

Her job as a typist for Radio Tokyo led to orders from the Japanese Army to broadcast propaganda to U.S. troops at sea. She apparently watered down the anti-American propaganda, refused their pressure to become a Japanese citizen, and told her captors they would lose the war.

Kinney endorsed

PLEASANTON — Pleasanton City Councilmembers Robert Philcox, Joyce LeClaire and Ken Murcer have announced their endorsement of Ed Kinney for the Zone 7 Board of Directors.

In a joint statement, the three Pleasanton officials noted that the zone's need to represent all valley communities and to encourage valley-wide cooperation would be best served by the addition of Ed Kinney to the board of directors.

Vincent speaks out

Irene Vincent, candidate for Alameda County Supervisor District One, said in a press statement issued this week most people aren't aware of how the action of the County Supervisors affect their daily lives.

"Many people in the Livermore - Amador Valley are concerned and involved with land use issues. They are aware that their efforts are being constantly undermined by the actions of the Board of Supervisors. I believe the county government should get out of the land use business for the most part," Vincent said. "It is incredible to me that supervisors continue to act in ways that are in serious conflict with the local city governments."

"It's time the taxpayer was taken off the hook for picking up the tab for the land speculators," she said.

Human services, she continued, use 63 per cent of our county budget, and yet the supervisors pay little attention to this responsibility.

"District One has one of the worst records in the county," Vincent charged. "For example, even though the district has 10 per cent of the county population, it has only two per cent of the revenue sharing funds for social service programs. We pay our fair share of the Federal Taxes and we deserve our fair share of the benefits."

Vincent said, "there is no excuse for South County human service programs to be in such a sorry state."

Miller on water

Don Miller, candidate for Zone 7 board of directors, issued this press statement:

Water is still poor in Pleasanton, and Dublin, largely because Zone 7 rates are so high that cheaper hard water from wells still needs to be used.

By eliminating overcharges and using connection fees as promised, the zone can both lower water rates and improve water quality.

The present Zone 7 majority, however, has increased wholesale water rates 40 per cent, of which only 12 per cent is due to inflation, in two years. Why? To stockpile money so that future expansions will not have to be submitted to the voters for approval.

Before the Project II Bond Election, the Zone 7 Board and "Citizens for Better Water" (Mr. Schweser and Mr. Marguth as chairmen) promised that Project II would not result in water rate increases.

They stated that connection fees on new construction would pay for Project II.

However, not one penny of connection fees has been used to pay for those Project II bonds. These fees, together with what money is left from the water rate overcharges paid by valley residents, amount to $1.5 million per year.

There is no contract which guarantees that any of this money will be used to our benefit. Indeed, new developments such as "Geldertown" may be the beneficiaries of our money.

In view of the misleading and false promises of the Zone 7 board and "Citizens for Better Water" (public financial records show this group to be entirely financed by developers and construction interests), it is difficult to believe the present board majority and even more difficult to accept any pre-election promises of candidates from "Citizens for Better Water."

My past record as a public official shows that I follow through on what I say promise.

I will work to use connection fees to pay off Project II bonds and eliminate the unnecessary overcharges.

I will use expansion money paid by present residents for only those projects which will benefit residents. Expansion of future development should be approved by the voters and it should be paid for by those who want the expansion.

Kinney barbecue

The Ed Kinney for Zone 7 Committee invites the public to an election eve steak barbecue dinner at the Alameda County Fairgrounds on Monday, June 7.

No-host cocktails will be served starting at 6 p.m. The steak barbecue dinner will follow. Cost of the dinner is $4.50. Ed Kinney will be on hand to greet supporters.

Coffee for Tull

The public is invited to a coffee for Paul Tull on Thursday, June 3 at the Home Savings and Loan Meeting Room, 7889 Dublin Rd., Dublin from 7:30 to 10 p.m.

Tull, a candidate for Zone 7 board of directors, accepts no contributions toward his campaign, and no donations will be accepted at the coffee.

Loretta Terry of Livermore is hostessing the coffee.

Giersch endorsed

Valley Community Services District Director Richard Fahey and former VCSD director Byron Athan have announced their support for Louise Giersch for Contra Costa Supervisor District Five.

A coffee for Louise Giersch is scheduled at the Greenbrook home of Dick and Joan Dyer on June 2 at 8 p.m. Anyone interested in attending is invited to call 837-0478.

Giersch is continuing her door to door calling on voters in the San Ramon Valley. She pledges to apply her twelve years in government and background in engineering and planning to give San Ramon residents full-time interest and services.

City gets water pipe hookup

PLEASANTON — Progress has come to the city's corporation yard building in the form of a water hookup, something which will save the city money in the long run.

The yard used to pay as much as $175 a year for replaceable water cooler service from Alhambra, something which council members voted to stop in the 1976-77 budget.

The city workers won't die from thirst, though. The Alhambra water was needed when a trailer housed the corporation yard facilities. Now the old city hall house from Division Street is at the yard and been hooked up to the city water supply. An Oasis type water cooler will be installed, according to a city source.

Lydiksen's salute to Bicentennial — Americana

PLEASANTON — Early American games, folk singing, a folk concert with John Shine, and folk dancing were a part of Lydiksen School's "Americana" salute to the Bicentennial Friday.

Singing old favorites such as "Peas Porridge Pot," "Skip To My Lou," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" were students Lisa Glennon, Stacy Martinelli, Tamara Wilkerson, Elizabeth Price, Stacy Souza, Wendy Silveira, Margaret Tami-sea, Kevin Bracken, Keith Videtto, Scott Stirling, John Gregerson, Chris Cotton, Darren Mead, Brenda Tiesen, Melissa Piccone, and Kellie Boyle, and Kristi Wakeling, Juliette Goodrich, Kenny Vercellino, Cassandra Kwaiser, Alicia Cocilova, Kelly Debelak, and Tom Remiem.

Students, dressed in period costumes, finished the day with their presentation of the Minuet.

The "Americana" luncheon featured chicken, a roll, corn on the cob, punch, cornbread and apple juice.

VCSD takes rec signups

DUBLIN — The Valley Community Services District Recreation Department is now accepting registrations for the summer courses being offered.

Pre-registration is encouraged for all fee classes and may be done by mail or at the Recreation Department Office, 11600 Shannon Avenue.

Registrations are taken on a first-come, first-served basis and are limited in size.

Change due for hookup policy?

PLEASANTON — Councilman Frank Brandes thinks he has the votes to reverse the city's policy requiring property owners to pay a connection fee if their houses burn down and they want to replace them on the same lot.

The current city policy is to charge hookup fees to properties which never paid a fee. If the property has paid some fees, but under the amount currently in force, the property owner would pay the difference.

The policy was determined last year after an old home downtown was partially damaged by fire and demolished by its owner. The property owner in question had to pay the fee. The policy was set by a city council vote of 3-2.

Council members Ed Kinney and Roger McLain voted for the policy then and they are not sitting on the current council. Council members Bob Philcox and William Herlihy opposed the policy as does Brandes so it appears the vote will be reversed.

Brandes mentioned at the council meeting last week that he wants to reexamine the policy and was told that the council would be happy to discuss it.

Newcomers host new leaders, new members

Brightest spot in the Livermore social scene, the Livermore Newcomers Club, has chosen a zesty, young president to coordinate its multifarious activities — Kathy Vantine.

The club, which celebrates its fourth anniversary this year and boasts a membership of 200-strong at its peak season, will welcome prospective members this morning at an orientation coffee at 10 a.m. at the home of Kathy Kozman, 1543 Arlington Road.

New residents who have lived in the Livermore area for less than two years are eligible to join the club which is "very open and receptive to new members," according to President Vantine. Members of the club will even provide transportation for prospective members who might hesitate to come alone. Contact Donna Vickroy at 455-6969.

With a dozen or more special interest groups that encompass couples' bridge, bowling, crafts, gardening, cooking, tennis and bicycling, the club is "the best way to get to know the area, and become acquainted with people who share your interests at relaxed social gatherings."

Mrs. Vantine believes.

"The Newcomers Club was salvation to me when I first arrived." Kathy confesses. "It certainly made me feel at home in Liver-more." Full of a sparkling energy, the young president insists that the best way to learn your way about town is to take responsibility for a Newcomers activity. "That way you meet city officials, local merchants, rental hall managers, you name it!"

That was the route Kathy chose, joining the club within six months of her arrival in Livermore two and a half years ago, and serving as the club's social chairman and hospitality chairman.

Strictly a social organization, the club engages in no fund-raising activities, finding that its well-organized, large-scale theater parties, dinner-dances, fashion shows and picnics support themselves financially. The club publishes a monthly newsletter to keep members informed of all events.

"The Newcomers Club is really a well-rounded club, and it puts no pressure on members to participate," Kathy explains. "Actually, many 'oldtimers' stay with the club as social members after their three years as 'newcomers' are past."

Kathy Vantine is the bright new president for the Livermore Newcomers Club.

Introducing
Squoze
Pillsbury's
new family drink mix with half the sugar.

Half the sugar makes sense for the whole family.

Pillsbury knew that a drink mix with just half the sugar would make a lot of sense for your entire family. Because while reducing your family's sugar intake, it would reduce calories, too. So we squeeze sugar in half. Result: Squoze, with only half the sugar and half the calories of most pre-sweetened drink mixes.

Half the sugar means a lower price. New Squoze has a much lower everyday price per quart than any other leading pre-sweetened drink mix. Because when we squeeze out half the sugar, we squeeze down the price.

Half the sugar means a smaller 10 quart can.

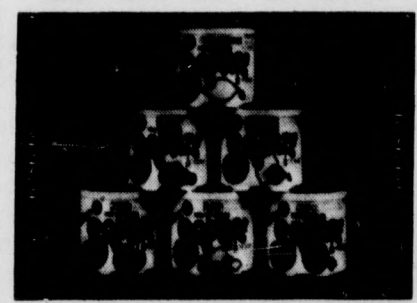

Sugar adds to bulk. So when we squeeze out half the sugar, we squeeze our can to about half the size of other 10 quart cans. It's easier to handle, easier to store and easier to keep more flavors on hand.

Half the sugar makes a great tasting all-family drink.

Grown-ups, teenagers, even kids will love new Squoze from Pillsbury. Because we squeeze out half the sugar and came up with six delicious flavors: Lemonade, Cherry, Orange, Lemon-Lime, Grape and Punch. Take 20¢ off and introduce your family to the great taste of Squoze.

State bond measure an education bargain

The Times recommends a "Yes" vote on Prop. 4 on your June ballot because we believe the state bonds generated by that measure will provide taxpayers, parents and students with the best bargain available today in our higher educational system.

Whether your interest is in Contra Costa or Alameda County's college program, the opportunities afforded these local communities by such as Diablo Valley College or the Chabot Valley Campus at Livermore are unlimited.

Our own experience is closer to the Chabot Community College District, a system we urged the Pleasanton and Murray townships to join some 15 years ago. We have never had reason to regret that move.

So how are our young people responding to that opportunity? Attendance records tell us that, in 1971 when Hayward afforded the only "junior college" campus, these several Valley communities generated 1594 students. In three years that local enrollment had grown to 3625 students. In 1975, 2014 Valley students were recorded as attending classes at Hayward (even though many of those same "Hayward students" also took classes at Valley Campus); that same year, Valley Campus had 2647 fulltime students.

These figures do not reflect the tremendous "adult activity" which a growing number of our people use to broaden, or complete, their educational experience; often this leads to a better job opportunity, higher pay, and greater stability within that Valley household.

What have we paid for all this? In 1973 - 74 our total local tax paid into the Community College system was $613. That swelled to just over 67 cents a year later, but in 1976-77 dropped back again to 66 cents.

Like we say, a good educational bargain ... for students, for parents and for the taxpayer. Which is why The Times recommends a "Yes" vote on Prop. 4 on your June ballot.

Pipeline is a must

Editor, The Times:

In a recent letter, Zone 7 candidate Marguth objects to the LAVVMA pipeline. He finds unacceptable my answer to the question, "Why do our local officials elected to the LAVVMA board accept the 'pipeline' to the Bay?" My answer is that we absolutely had no choice but to accept the wishes of higher agencies like the Regional Water Quality Control Board (RWQCB) and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). They control 7/8 of the money in the state and federal grants required to clean up our water supply.

Mr. Marguth also implied that Livermore passively went along with a pipeline. That implication is false. Livermore representatives to LAVVMA spoke out vigorously in favor of studying other options. I went to the REQCB as a representative of LAVVMA and argued for two hours in vain for alterations of arbitrary standards that would allow LAVVMA other options. I also suggested that LAVVMA bypass the REQCB and appeal to the State Water Board. However, the LAVVMA Board felt that such an appeal would be fruitless.

We must face reality. If we do not construct the pipeline, we will (1) have to pay the whole cost of any other alternative ourselves and (2) still have to meet the discharge standards of RWQCB anyway.

I suggest that Mr. Marguth's rhetoric does not square with reality. He is apparently willing to ride a "no pipeline" horse which would cost local taxpayers $30 million and would be unusable because it will not satisfy the discharge standards.

The pipeline, however undesirable, satisfies Regional Control standards and will cost local taxpayers only $4 million. In addition, if we do nothing about sewage effluent, each Valley agency will be (2,000,000 per year) until they comply with standards. Gib Marguth should remember that the art of politics is realistic compromise.

Don Miller, Livermore

Helping Chabot

Editor, The Times:

Proposition 4 is a Community College Construction Bond Measure. Passage of Proposition 4 will enable our Valley Campus to build additional classroom facilities. Many people worked hard to establish the Chabot College — Valley Campus, and now we have the chance to help Chabot once again. Please vote "yes" on Proposition 4 on June 8.

RON McNICOLL

So change lifestyle

The opponents of Proposition 15 say that without nuclear powerplants, our future lifestyle would be curtailed seriously.

They may be right, but a cutback in lifestyle would be a refreshing thing. This writer still remembers the 1940's when the air was relatively clean, cars were driven fewer miles, air conditioners were very few in number and we didn't have so many energy-eating appliances to save us time so we could watch more television.

A cutback to that level of energy consumption ought to make our resources go further, maybe even clean up the air and make us a little less materialistic.

That the energy growth rate is important was discovered by researchers at Lawrence Livermore Laboratory. They found that a 7 per cent energy growth rate cost many times more than a 1.5 per cent growth rate. The 7 per cent figure represents California's experience in the 1960's, the 1.5 per cent rate is just keeping up with natural population increase.

Of course, consumers always pay for increased power consumption in the end. The LLL study found that electric bills will rise 12 per cent as energy companies try to recover their $2.2 billion investment in each nuclear power plant. They didn't study the costs of conventional power sources, but it costs rate users money to build those plants, too.

Call us nostalgic, if you like, but we hark back to the good old days of the "energy scare" when big companies were boasting about leaving their skyscraper lights off. It was a step in the right direction; too bad it died out.

— by Ron McNicoll

MIKE ZAMPA

A nice trip

If you've seen "All The President's Men" you've probably discovered the latest in political argot. Candidates don't falter or drop out of the race any longer. They self-destruct.

In 1972, senators Humphrey and McGovern didn't succumb to stronger opposition, they went pfft — just like the cassettes Peter Graves would listen to in the construction site outhouse.

Whoever drafted the phrase for use in the political wars possessed remarkable foresight.

No one could have predicted, however, that it would become a literal description instead of a figurative one. But at that time no one had seen Gerald Ford stumble down the loading ramp of the airport.

His presidential candidacy has been one monumental effort at self destruction — the permanent kind. Months ago he was labelled the most likely President to perpetrate his own assassination. Well, he's still trying.

Every awkward step along the primary trail has been interrupted by low passageways and abandoned tricycles. Secret Servicemen are requesting combat pay to walk alongside the chief executive. If President Ford is returned to office in November, they ought to get rid of the eagle on his official emblem. A crutch would be more like it.

The Ford campaign circus stumbled and bumbled into the Bay Area last week, and it was full of low-bridging and high comedy. Talk about self-destructing.

At Walnut Creek, the President was supposed to clang a symbolic replica of the Liberty Bell before thousands crammed into the Broadway Plaza Shopping center. He yanked the clapper right out of it.

In front of cameramen at San Jose Airport he nearly stampeded his appointments secretary.

Psychologically, the most damaging Ford boo came at the morning dedication of a San Jose industrial park. The President was to inaugurate the center by snipping a red tape with giant scissors. Of course the scissors jammed and the tape held fast. That had to be construed as a metaphor on government's inability to hack through the red tape of bureaucracy.

All told it was a typical campaign swing by the President — pillage and personal injury strewn in his path. You wonder if one man can really be such a clod. Or is all this Mack Sennett stuff a clever political ploy?

Could it be the President's campaign generalship is pointing for the votes of everyone who ever

Hindsight/Foresight

Prop. 1 exposed

All that glitters at first glance may not be so golden when held to the light.

Take Proposition 1 on the June 8 ballot for instance.

Prop. 1 is a $200 million State bond issue to provide funds for hard-pressed school districts throughout the State for reconstruction, remodeling, or replacement of buildings more than 30 years old.

These are buildings, constructed prior to 1947, which do not meet current safety, environmental, and educational standards. Prop. 1 would also enable rapid growth districts to construct new facilities (Attn: San Ramon).

Physical improvements would be acquired by districts on a lease-purchase basis from the State.

So much for the good news. Here comes the catch.

Districts must vote in order to start the lease-purchase ball rolling.

Deductions taken by the State from these districts' other State school funds guarantee repayment and make the bonds self-liquidating.

Local districts supposedly have the advantage of getting lower interest rates than they can obtain with their independent bond issues, thereby reducing impact on local property taxes.

The eligibility requirements is the real kicker.

Murray School District please copy.

Facilities would be lease-purchased to a school district only after it files an application with the State Allocation Board. Two principal requirements would be (1) a favorable tax election by school district voters authorizing an increase in the maximum tax rate — so as to make the lease-purchase payments to the State. Approval of plans (2) by the Department of Education would also be required.

The State would, at all times, return title to the buildings and property until full repayment. Which only reinforces that old theorem that one will never get something (from the state) for nothing — or even a cut rate!

Before the SAB approves an application for construction, though, it will also establish cost standards for all new construction.

No fair building "frill" projects! What's good enough for Emeryville, Pittsburg, or Baldwin Park is good enough for San Ramon, Orinda, or Beverly Hills. Got it!

The one saving grace of this Proposition, though, is the interest angle.

Property taxpayers in districts with approved programs could be saved considerable in interest rates.

Proponents say if the lease-purchase program had been in effect last year, six school districts which independently sold revenue bonds would have saved over $26 million in interest costs.

But the qualifying and state procedures virtually cancel the Positive aspects.

Letters to the Times

Oppose the slate

Editor, The Times:

The developer-backed slate of Zone 7 candidates is being touted by the Herald-News as a group of "responsible," "visionary," and "respectable" men.

Luckily for the voters, these men have public records which reveal instead a tarnished image of irresponsibility, short-sightedness, and even dishonesty in dealing with the citizens of this Valley.

Fact 1) Marguth and Schweser glibly lied to the voters about the cost of Project 2. Through CBW, their developer-funded front group, they promised No increase in water rates. Now every penny of Pleasanton residents by voting approval of septic tanks which threaten to contaminate our underground water supply.

Fact 2) Despite their sudden anti-Geldertown statements, all 3 candidates are anxious to put Zone 7 into the sewer business. They could then provide Geldertown with this essential service, refused by other responsible Valley agencies.

Fact 4) Kinney and Schweser, though now denying it, have a public record of pro-Geldertown votes: Schweser actually voted on the LAFCO decision to severely limit Livermore's sphere of influence, a crucial first step toward county approval of this monstrous new development. Kinney was the only "no" vote when Pleasanton's City Council voted to support Livermore's protest against LAFCO's action.

Fact 5) Marguth opposed the SAVE initiative through CRVP, the so-called "Citizens for Rational Valley Planning," another group heavily funded by developers and other special interests outside the Valley. His campaign worked directly against the majority of local voters who approved this rational valley planning measure.

Fact 6) All 3 candidates are now supported by VFC (Valley First Committee), yet another misleading front-group bankrolled by speculative outside interests pushing for rapid development at the expense of our water, air, schools, and taxes.

So don't be fooled by high-sounding campaign statements. Look at the records and see whose interest these 3 men are serving. It certainly isn't the public's!

Mrs. Susan Steinberg, Livermore

Lady Irene

Editor, The Times:

Once upon a time a giant prince went on a long journey to search out a place to build a new kingdom. As he reached the top of a crest his eyes widened in wonder as he saw a great and grand Valley that lay stretched majestically below.

Here is where he would build his kingdom. In his mind he envisioned a grand castle and many others great small in which countless subjects would live. It would be called Geldertinsel Towers and be grand and profitable. Of course he must also build a counting house to store all of the gold he would reap.

Quickly he made his way to the Lord of The Valley to lay his plans. When the subjects heard of this undertaking they gathered to talk and wonder about the changes it would bring.

Lady Irene learned of the Giant Prince and was much concerned about her neighbors and the future of Province I. She was worried that so much building would create heavy burdens and problems. Moats might stop up and even a super-moat might not save them. Any problems related to water, Lady Irene knew would be a long and arduous task to correct, especially fouled water. More subjects would bring more fire-breathing dragons that would cast a blight upon the land. Heavier taxes would be levied to provide for Geldertinsel Tower's safety and welfare.

So Lady Irene went throughout the land to search out the evil. She could find no visible protection so she asked the people to help her banish the new revealed Frog Prince and his greed from The Valley.

Anita Perry

Those signs

Editor, The Times:

It was a dark and windy night as one member of the group crept stealthily onto the private suburban lawn to steal the Don Miller sign. With malicious smiles streaking their faces, they ran quickly onto the next lawn to swipe another Don Miller sign and a Fitch sign for good measure. They took a fraction of a second to toss an empty beer bottle onto another lawn as they hastened toward the rendezvous point at Arroyo Seco School. Once there, "Vandals Fulminating Committee" stomped and smashed all signs brought in.

They should be warned by their friends that they could be prosecuted for trespassing and destruction of private property. Gib Marguth should especially be worried by their actions. His signs were the only ones left standing after the midnight raid.

Marguth's rates

Copy of a letter to Mr. Gib Marguth: I attended the League of Women Voters' Candidate's Night last night. As a result of a double mix — up there, my written question for you was not asked. Since I believe your answer to this question is important, I am presenting it here:

As Livermore Chairman of the group known as Citizens for Better Water, you were responsible for an ad in the Valley newspapers appearing in November, 1972, which promised that Zone 7's Project 2 "won't cost you a cent in tax money OR IN INCREASED WATER RATES."

A week ago last Saturday, the Herald & News reported you as telling the audience at the Dublin Jr. Women's Candidate's Night that "never did the Committee say that the bond would result in no fee increase."

Please explain yourself to us.

William Loewe, Livermore

Round the town

I have been giving a great deal of thought to the upcoming primary election in California. Like you, I am trying very hard to sort out the facts, and the candidates, in that quest for the real truth, the one unchallengeable answer.

So far all I've come up with is a big fat Zero.

For one thing, they don't campaign the way they used to, in those elections of yesteryear. "Vote for me and I will guarantee a chicken in every pot." That was the kind of campaign oratory any dumb voter could understand. Later on they changed the line to "two cars in every garage." But the idea was the same.

Now the politician who promises us least gets the best response.

"I am just a humble peanut farmer trying to serve the Lord," Jimmy Carter tells the folks. They go to the polls and give Jimmy a resounding plurality.

"Send me to the White House and I will stop spending, stop building, stop hiring. In fact I will stop you like you've never been stopped before," Jerry Brown advises the midwest masses. They scream their adulation, and they make Jerry a new Democratic hopeful for those who don't like Jimmy Carter's sermons.

There were a few candidates who tried to campaign the old way. Scoop Jackson promised to do this and that with the Pentagon budget. Fred Harris was going to "change this nation's priorities." But the voters are tired of the Pentagon, and turned off on priorities. Jackson and Harris are out of the running. Democrats are faced with a choice of Carter's homily or Brown's manta. Democrats couldn't be happier.

"Walk softly and carry a big stick," Teddy Roosevelt said, or something like that. He took his stick down to Panama and dug a ditch. Americans marveled at Teddy's courage. Now he comes across as some sort of dumb — dumb who forgot to get the buyer's signature on the check.

The Panama Canal is a major issue in the Republican primaries because (Check one) — A. What we did to those poor Panamanians was gross injustice and we ought to fill the thing in and start over; or — B. The ungrateful natives should be lined up and shot, annex Panama to Texas, and change the canal's name to "Alamo Aqueduct."

If things work out just right, the Democrats will nominate Jerry Brown and the Republicans will name Ronnie Reagan. And Americans will have to choose between a second rate actor who always wanted to be a leader, or a second rate leader who really wants to be an actor.

The only reason Shirley Temple Black isn't running for president is because the FCC would ban all re-runs of those old Shirley Temple movies; and Mrs. Black couldn't take that kind of pay cut.

On the state level, things are much more comprehensible. For United States Senator from California, Democrats are asked to choose between John Tunney and Tom Hayden. Tunney really believes he's Ted Kennedy, with teeth. Hayden looks and sounds so much like Jane Fonda that audiences have been known to confuse one with the other.

Republicans have a much wider choice. Not better, just wider. One is a teacher of semantics from San Francisco. If he wins, all of California will learn to sound its words correctly, with a slight Japanese accent. It could be the greatest boon to California since the Charlie Chan movies.

Fortunately, not all of the primary balloting is for people. There is the usual generous list of propositions. The really vital questions that the legislature needs help in resolving such as "Taxation on banks, corporations, franchises and insurers." Or — "Deposit of public moneys in savings and loan associations — Yes or No?" There are 15 state propositions in all. Plus another 15 in Spanish. You only get to vote on all 30 if you're bilingual.

The only proposition attracting much attention is the one nobody understands. Something about nuclear power plants. Fortunately, a great many people who have carefully studied Prop. 15 have shared their expertise with me, and I am going to share it with you. It all boils down to one of two choices —

"If you vote Yes on Prop. 15, that will mean the end of all nuclear energy, and the end of civilization as we now know it," the opponents explain. "It will be back to the caves for all Californians."

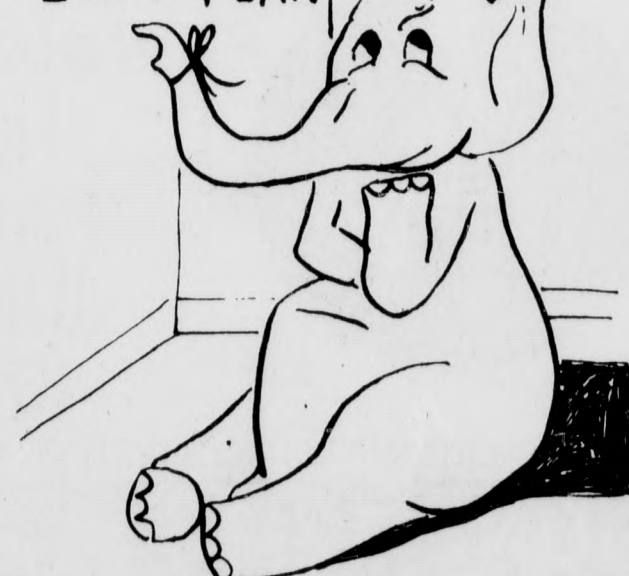

From the proponents of Prop. 15 comes this straightforward explanation — "By voting No on this proposition you will be spreading nuclear contamination across the land. It will be the end of civilization as we now know it, and it will be back to the caves for all Californians."

If you have any more questions about the June primary, please don't hesitate to ask. After all, it's only through an informed electorate that our system of government can be preserved.

First Decoys
A thousand years ago, Indians made the first decoys in order to attract birds to move within an arrow's range. They were made of bulrushes, woven and twisted into duck shapes. This Indian invention was quickly adopted by North America's first white hunters. In the Old World, hunters used tame birds to trap wild ones in a cage the Dutch called an "ende kooi" — what the Englishmen pronounced "decoy."

South thought about some sort of slam try after his partner's three-spade bid, but settled for a conservative bid of game.

When dummy hit the table he saw that a small slam was likely and that a 2-2 heart break would let him make seven. He said, "I didn't bid enough."

Then he reached over to dummy and played the king of hearts. East ruffed and led the jack of diamonds. South was mighty glad he hadn't bid six and noted that four was in grave danger. He really thought a while, then played his queen. West won and led a second heart. When the smoke had cleared away South was down two at his four-spade contract.

We really feel sorry for South, but must point out that our old friend pessimistic Pete would have made the game. He would have ducked the first and second hearts. East could ruff the third but Pete would not have needed to try the diamond finesse and would have made the game.

Ask the Jacobys

A Utah reader wants to know if four notrump is Blackwood in the sequence: 1NT, Pass, 4NT.

In most systems this particular four notrump is played as showing a balanced 15 or 16 high-card points. Opener is supposed to pass if he holds a minimum 16 and to bid a slam with 18 or a good 17.

If you want to play the bid as Blackwood, you can do so provided your partner agrees with you.

Pokes seek improvement

Livermore football coach Ron Berg, entering his second year as head coach after debuting with a 3-2 league mark last year, believes the going will be a lot smoother this time around.

Berg and his anxious Cowboy footballers have started spring workouts on Livermore's field the last two weeks, and the burly coach admits "It's a lot easier" than last year's task.

"I couldn't have asked anything more from last year's team than what they gave me," said Berg, whose 'Pokes reached the final game of the season with a shot at the title, before succumbing to champion Granada, 14-10. "If there was one thing we needed to improve upon, I think maybe we should have been more prepared."

"But this year we're prepared."

Berg and his assistant coaches Tom Favero (defense) and Kevin Drake (backfield) have a lot of players to choose from. "We've got about 70 kids. Our strong points are our depth. We don't cut anybody, they cut themselves. We'll probably end up with about 60."

In the spring practices, physical stress is not important to Berg. "We don't run hard now, in August we'll start running. The guys will work out on their own in the summer."

As for now, the 'Pokes are on a weight training program, "to get these guys physically in shape," says Berg.

"You've got to go out there with some goals in mind or you're wasting your time," says Berg of the brief spring practices. "We have a bunch of goals: one, we evaluate our personnel on certain things and two, we experiment with a few things to see if they'll work next fall."

A healthy crop of returning lettermen off of last year's team will help Berg's cause this year. Among the returnees are Linemen Wade Andrade, Fred Rohn and Dan Bernacil, defensive back Tim Palmer and running back Pat Powles. Charlie Bockover will handle the kicking chores for the 'Pokes this year.

At quarterback, Berg has three possibilities. Seniors Dan Davis and Rick Gildea appear to be the best choices, followed by junior southpaw Naish Piazza who will press hard for the top spot.

Tight ends Mark Tewes and Bob Tarte add size and strength to the offensive attack, both of them returning lettermen.

As in the past, Berg believes the defense will carry the load of the Livermore team.

Matadors follow success

Matador gridders go through training.

Don't mess with success. That's the philosophy Granada High School football coach Don Couch and his staff are following as they begin preparations to defend the East Bay Athletic League championship.

As might be expected, the Matadors are strong at most positions as spring practice winds down leaving little need for change.

The only significant alteration in Granada's offense will come at guard, where the requirements of the position will change.

"This year we'll pull with our guards a lot," Couch revealed. "So, naturally, we're trying to find out who the best pulling linemen are. They'll become the guards; the others will go to tackle."

Significantly, the assignment changes come at the least deep point on the Mats' squad.

Naming center Mike Nalty, guard Larry Burke, tight end Rick Bosch and tackle Mike Tierney as the top returnees, Couch admitted, "We've got some good starters but we must develop depth."

"We hope to come up with the linemen to match our running backs."

Ball carriers about on the Mats spring roster.

Vance Rushing, who teamed with graduate Steve Jaeger to provide the Mats with the EBAL's top running game, returns along with 1975 squad members Jaryl Hudson and Joel Strickland. Sophomore Gary Bannister, all but assured of a spot on the fall roster, Curt Honodel and Billy Wagner round out the backfield candidates.

"It's hard to tell about the quarterbacks," said Couch, explaining that while junior Steve Robison will be the only experienced signal caller in the fall, Bob Parness has looked good during the one-hour-a-day spring workouts.

"It's really a credit to our junior varsity program that Parness can step right in and do so well," he added.

Whoever earns the job will have a gaggle of fine receivers to throw to according to the third-year Granada coach, who pointed to Brian McSharry, last season's top pass-catcher, Jay McGowan, Steve Waldara, Brad Wood and Steve Dickinson as the top prospects at flanker and split end.

Dickinson, who will be a senior, is in his first season of football but appears to be slated for a healthy share of playing time.

On defense, Granada is strong at down linemen and linebacker, but, in Couch's words, is "hurting" at defensive end and in the secondary. Strickland, McGowan, Robison and Honodel loom as possible starters in the defensive backfield.

Granada places little emphasis on conditioning in spring drills, (when full contact practice is not allowed by the EBAL) leaving that up to the individual player until pre-season practice opens in August, sticking instead to fundamentals.

"Other than the changes at guard, we just want to familiarize the kids coming up from JVs and freshmen with our offense," Couch said. "For the returnees, it's a matter of refreshing their memories."

Most of the drills are to refine Granada's veer offense. Quarterbacks work on reading the play as it's while the running backs work on getting into the pitch-out relationship.

The fortnight of fair-weather work outs also serves to weed out the top players for the fall roster. The Mats began with 45 players May 24 and were down to 38 by yesterday. Couch hopes to pare the squad to 33 by the time contact drills begin in late August.

Paddys top Trappers, take soccer crown

Dublin's Under-12 Paddys brought the Pacific Coast Youth Soccer Championship home to California Monday, beating the Totem Trappers of Seattle, 1-0 in the final game at Lake Oswego, Oregon.

It was the first time a California team had ever won the Pacific Coast title in five years of tourney play. The Paddys finished with a 41-8-3 record for the season.

Joe Garlington scored the game's only goal. Chris Davis assisted on the goal and Robbie Allen played well on defense.

Jeff Gellerman, Andy Salmeron and Tom McIntyre also played well for the winners.

Dublin defeated the Lake Grove Hornets of Oregon 2-0 in the tourney's semi-finals Sunday afternoon.

Garlington and Jim Hitcher scored second half goals and Davis added another assist. Kevin Earl and Andy Lezcano played very well as did Paddy goalie Danny Bynum.

Red Carpet wins, 15-10

The winning battery also led the offense as Red Carpet Realty of Pleasanton topped Val Vista Liquors, 15-10, in the Pleasanton Women's Softball League last week.

Pitcher Jonni Dye and catcher Doris Barks each went three-for-four with a double and a triple to pace the Reds. Sam Cumming also was three-for-four and Bonnie Whittier cracked a double and a triple. Carol Edney blasted a three-bagger.

For the losers, Carolyn McMillan smacked two doubles to go four-for-four while Patti Carels tripled and Lorraine Demmel doubled, scoring two runs.

A total of five runs in the second and third innings proved to be the difference as the other frames were played even.

Teamwork key to Amador season

A little togetherness went a long way for the Amador Dons' in their second place finish in the East Bay Athletic League baseball standings this season.

The Dons, who lost their North Coast Section playoff opener to El Cerrito by an 8-7 score Friday, used a lot of that valuable commodity: teamwork, to get where they did this season.

"The most satisfying thing about our season was the way our kids stuck together," Amador mentor Don Bush said yesterday. "Last season we had some discipline problems but this year the kids really held together as a team."

The Dons finished the EBAL season with an 11-3 record and were 14-6 overall (not counting the loss to El Cerrito).

"When the season began I thought we had as good a chance to win the title as anybody," Bush went on. "Our pitching and excellent defense really did it for us."

Bush thinks there is some similarity between his team and Monte Vista. "Both teams played good defense and had top pitching," he said. "The difference was Monte Vista got more timely hits. They had some very good hitters."

Unfortunately for the Dons, their good defense ran into one bad game against El Cerrito, otherwise Amador might have been in the championship series this weekend.

"We had some bad breaks against El Cerrito," Bush admitted. "We committed some errors and the sunlight didn't help matters either. The sun kept getting in our leftfielder's eyes."

Rob Wicks, the Dons' ace pitcher, did not have one of his better days Friday. The junior hurler gave up five earned runs and walked two batters while striking out four.

However, if it weren't for Wicks Amador would have probably finished in the second division instead of making the NCS playoffs.

All Wicks did was throw two one-hitters and a two-hitter in pitching more than his share of games.

"I thought my two-hitter against Granada was my best game of the season," Wicks commented. "That was a key win for us."

Rob compiled a 9-0 record in the regular season and generally pitched against the other team's best hurler.

His presence alone would make Amador a contender for the EBAL crown next season. Besides Wicks the Dons will also be able to rely on pitcher Mike Krikorian, some excellent varsity reserves and a second place junior varsity squad which went 10-4.

Wicks himself has no doubt how next season will turn out.

"We'll take it. We'll go all the way," he says. After the great improvement the Dons showed this season who can doubt him? — By Gary Brown

Swafford's 278 leads keglers

Mel Swafford bowled a career-high game of 278 to lead the summer league bowlers last week at Granada Bowl.

He has a 144 average. Swafford will be given an ABC Century Award for bowling over 100 points above his average.

Bruce Henningsen of the Reno League made a summer comeback with an opening game of 258. Steve Smith had a 610 series with a high game of 214.

Pettit, Ogden spark Round Table victory

John Pettit knocked in three runs and Ray Ogden tossed a five-hitter to lead Round Table Pizza by Valley Pancake House, 16-5, in recent Livermore National Senior action.

Pettit ripped a three-run double as Round Table scored 13 times in the first inning. Scott Koehler was two-for-two at the plate for the winners.

Al Neto's All-Staters scored twice in the sixth inning and went on to defeat Webb's Turquoise Mine, 4-2, while Lone Star whipped Wonder Foods, 4-1, in the only other Seniors action.

Alex Carrillo threw a two-hitter to lead Webb's and was ably assisted by a fine shoestring catch by center fielder Rich Picynski.

Brian Swailes, George Yawornisky and Roger Bowers all connected for two hits in Lone Star's win.

Palomart came up with three runs in the final inning to edge Little Buggers, 9-7, in LNL majors play.

Palomart outthrew the Little Buggers, 9-3, with Jeff York being credited with the win.

In other major league action, Eagles clobbered the Elks, 18-3, and Aincin's bested V. Rudofli, 4-1.

The Eagles put their game away with a nine-run sixth while Bob Montana led a 12-hit attack with two doubles.

Aincin's Bob Allen tossed a one-hitter while four errors cost V. Rudofli's.

Dublin

Mark Flesham ripped three singles to lead the Indians past the Shamrock Ford Mustangs, 6-3, in Senior action.

In the Majors, the Orioles blanked the Braves, 9-0, and Ramley's Market A's stopped Rich's Chevron Rangers, 4-3.

Troy Vanflut fired a one-hitter while also stroking two hits. Teammate Jim O'Brien lashed two singles and a double while Randy Bannister and Ron Simonich added two hits each.

Ramley's Market A's broke a 3-3 tie with a run in the fifth and pitcher Phil Hampton shut out Rich's Chevron the final three innings for the win.

Chevron scored on its runs in the third inning.

John Berejka paced the A's with a home run and single.

In the Dublin Valley A division, Leatherman Cardinals blasted McCurley Raiders, 17-6, and Coast Litho Dragons nipped the Cardinals, 9-8.

In Leatherman's big win over the Raiders, catcher Greg Corriag stroked three hits and knocked in four runs.

Coast Litho scored six times in the second but had to hold on to barely defeat Leatherman.

Rod Scott, Anthony Alcosta and Frank Milina had three hits each for the Dragons while Todd Eggen and Scott Fulwood were 3-4 for the losers.

In the Minor National's, Tele Vue Viewers outslugged Foster Freeze Jets, 14-13, while Linda Jean Donuts Cuss swamped S.R. Auto Clinic Stars, 14-3.

The Jets scored the winning run in its last at bat after falling behind, 5-0, in the first inning.

Pat Pape and Jon Peterson stroked two hits apiece while Jeff Davis and Martin Lasserre lashed two safeties each for Tele Vue.

Linda Jean's Donuts got only five hits but put 14 runs on the board in its easy win over S.R. Auto Clinic.

Matt Martin tossed a three hitter for Linda Jean's.

In the Bag Grant Canal has catfish, snags

Charlie Litz

BOB WEV SAYS his favorite place for catfish is the east end of Grant Line Canal. But he admits there are lots of places to snag the line — so keep a sharp lookout when you cast out!

The best time to go is when the tide is coming in. Check a tide chart; just a small change in the tide makes quite a difference in fishing conditions.

THE BERKELEY PIER was so crowded over the weekend that it was difficult to find a place to cast from. But it seemed everyone was catching fish of some kind. All kinds of baits were being used; the most popular was probably the common fishing worm from the backyard.

Girls are taking up fishing in increasing numbers. Two girls at the pier had four flounders, three jack smelt, and three crabs.

The pier at Vallejo was also yielding lots of smelt and flounder.

WOULD YOU BE DULY IMPRESSED if your buddy said, "Hey, I have a new hunting rifle. It's a 7.62mmx63mm, and I plan to handload for it. I figure a powder charge of 3.24 g. of 4895 will give me a velocity of 900 m/s. What do you think?"

You would know that he had bought a 30/06 and plans on loading it with a 150 grain bullet with a velocity of approximately 3000 f.p.s., which isn't too shabby.

There is nothing wrong with his choice of caliber either as it is still one of the most used (for more than 56 years) and a great favorite of the rifle clan.

We urge you to vote NO on 15.

Let's clear up the confusion about Proposition 15. It's a nuclear energy shutdown. Nothing else. Proposition 15 is not a safeguard measure. It's not just a slowdown of nuclear energy development.

Its provisions would force the total shutdown of nuclear energy in California and ban construction of any new plants in the future.

Proposition 15 would increase our dangerous dependence on foreign oil for our energy needs. It would mean air pollution and health risks from greater use of oil and coal. It would cost each family in California $32 every month, every year for the next 20 years, just in higher electric bills and other consumer costs.

Finally, Proposition 15 would seriously worsen our energy shortage and badly damage California's economy and job market.

We urge you to vote NO on 15. But look into Proposition 15 yourself. The more you know about it, the less you'll like it.

The take

Wanda McFadden, Karel Balmer, Petey Pherson, Sharleen Smith, Karen Phillips and Geneva Humphry tally up the money collected during the Cancer Fund Drive. Following the tabulation, it was discovered that valley collections fell $11,000 short of the goal set. Anyone desiring to make a contribution to the Cancer Fund Drive may do so by mailing the donation to P.O. Box 522, Livermore.

Mail early, horse leaving

PLEASANTON— It's still not too late to catch the Pony Express!

Valley residents will be able to send a letter by that way-o'-the-west on Sunday, June 20 when approximately 20 riders saddle up for a Pony Express relay between the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce and the Alamo Post Office.

Special stationery, commemorating the ride, and envelopes are now available for $1 at the Chamber of Commerce on Neal Street and Franklin Savings and Loan on Main in Pleasanton. Deadline for turning in mail to the chamber is June 10.

Riders representing the San Ramon, Hayward, Moraga and Martinez horsemen's associations will leave from the chamber offices at approximately 2 p.m. on the 20th. Each will ride one-mile legs. The route will take riders out Bernal to Foothill and then along Foothill and San Ramon Valley Boulevard to Alamo.

The final riders are expected to arrive at the Alamo Post Office about 4 p.m. Mail will be hand-cancelled at Alamo.

A hoedown and barbecue will follow during the evening hours in Alamo and is open to the public.

DiScala wins top award

PLEASANTON— Nick DiScala, a senior at Amador Valley High School, has been awarded the annual California Savings and Loan League outstanding student award, a bronze medallion inscribed to him, plus a cash award for his advanced education at a college of his choice.

This is the 19th year these awards have been made and is designed to encourage students to achieve high scholastic standing and to participate in extracurricular activities.

Airport meet next Tuesday

LIVERMORE — The Airport Advisory Committee, which has been holding its regular monthly meeting on the first Tuesday of the month, will meet instead during June on Tuesday, June 8.

The meeting will begin at noon at the Livermore Rancher restaurant.

Dental unit seeks aid for kids

The Southern Alameda County Dental Health Foundation has announced a goal of $20,000 to be raised during 1976 Bicentennial Year to fund its ongoing program of furnishing children of families not eligible for welfare but still in need of financial assistance with needed dental care.

This care includes emergency as well as comprehensive dental treatment as regular patients in private dental offices.

In 1975, 32 indigent youths completed their dental treatment through the foundation. This year it is hoped that twice that number can be furnished this service.

More than 95 per cent of the funds go directly to services by utilizing volunteers and donated administrative services.

Last year 185 dentists in Southern Alameda County and six outside sources contributed to the foundation. The Society of St. Vincent DePaul served as a screening agency for the selection of worthy patients.

The public is invited to contribute to the foundation. More information may be obtained by calling 537-1139.

Livermore-Dublin members of the board of directors are Dr. Kenneth Kemp and Dr. Robert Brandt.

WHAT HAS ZONE 7 GOT TO DO WITH SMOG?

The Livermore leadership shut down the home-building industry but apparently forgot to tell the Livermore Rad Lab about it.

The Lab is growing, which should be good news for the valley.

We hear another 450 workers will be hired this year.

And this is in addition to last year's growth. But alas! Most of these new workers won't find housing in the Valley. Home building stopped because of smog.

No problem. They can always commute from the bay area in their cars.

But what about the smog these cars will bring??? Another example of Livermore's long range planning. So the valley gets the smog and some other area gets the tax base.
